

STOCK MARKET IS AT A STANDSTILL

Confusion in Opinions of Railroad Men Reflected in Wall Street.

BEAR ELEMENT CAUTIOUS

MONEY SITUATION SAID TO BE VERY SATISFACTORY.

New York, June 19.—The arrest of speculative activity reflects a completion of operations based on past happenings and a mood of uncertainty over future developments. The pause in the liquidation is evidence of the accomplishment of much of the speculative deflation that was called for by the excesses of last year, and more immediately by the alarm felt over the injunction obtained by the government against the proposed freight increases.

The assumption of satisfaction with the agreement between the government and the railroads over the rate settlement, which was expressed in the violent rebound in prices, was not by renewed complaints from prominent railroad officials, mixed with cheerful professions from other railroad officials. The confusion thus displayed in the opinion of railroad executives themselves, has caused like conditions in speculative sentiment.

The bear party, however, is kept in restraint and the stock market is almost stagnant. The extent to which the liquidation and the decline in prices have gone, make the bear party cautious. Readjustment in commodity markets has kept pace with that in stocks and the statement of the country's foreign trade for May shows the effect in the expansion in exports and in the falling off in imports resulting from the conviction of abnormal price levels which had been maintained.

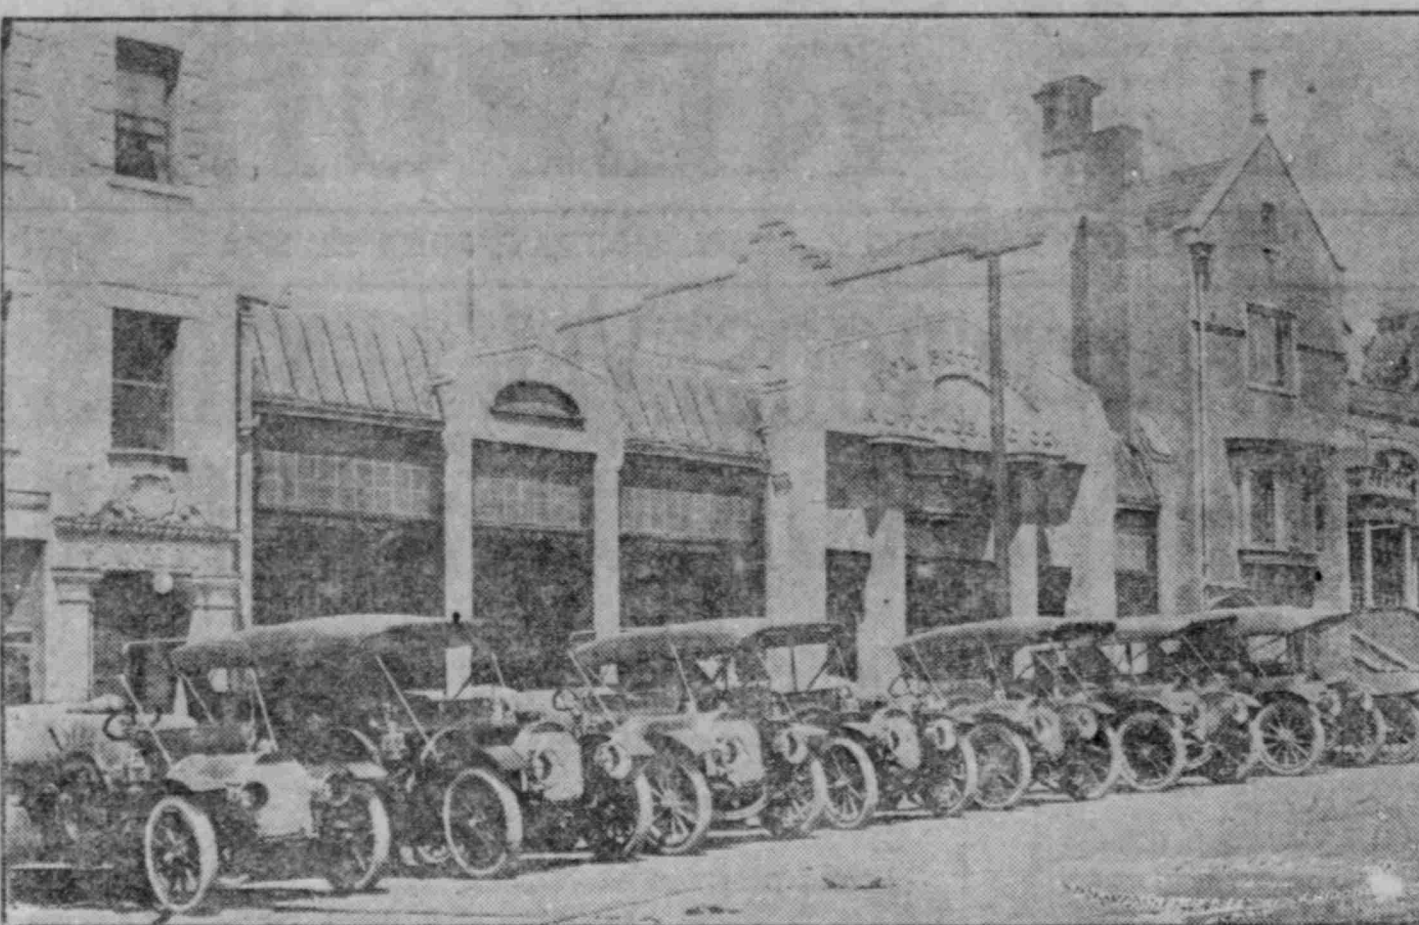

Improvement is not very clear in copper prices as production has been maintained almost at maximum figures. The money markets give evidence of the recuperation already effected in the credit situation. The easy tone of call and short time loans owes something to the disposition of tenders to keep funds available for the fall developments. The bank of England, in spite of its redundancy of resources and the continued heavy influx of tax money, finds the open market obligations to it in course of reduction.

REFORM MEASURES.

Senator Bourne and Winston Churchill to Address Illinois Voters.

Chicago, June 19.—It was announced here today that Jonathan B. Bourne, United States senator from Oregon, and Winston Churchill of New Hampshire will address the legislative conference to be held at Peoria, June 27 and 28. Senator Bourne will speak on the Oregon plan of electing federal senators and Mr. Churchill will discuss the "short ballot." The Peoria conference was called by citizens following recent disclosure of alleged corruption in the Illinois legislature.

CARS THAT WILL GO TO THE FIGHT

Caravan of Salt Lake Autos That Will Be Driven to Fight

THE eight Pierce Arrows shown in the above photograph are the cars that will be driven by their owners to scene of fight, leaving Salt Lake June 23. Mayor Bransford and his son, Wallace, leave this week, and they will lay out the route for the cars that will follow. The cars are owned, reading from left to right, by No. 1, S. A. Whitney; No. 2, Joseph Geoghegan; No. 3, James Ivers; No. 4, Mayor Bransford; No. 5, A. J. Harvey; No. 6, E. A. Thompson; No. 7, Wallace Bransford; No. 8, Lytle Price, Jr.

It is the intention of the party to lay out a complete touring map, with all data relative to accommodations, points where gasoline can be obtained, and, in fact, complete information which will be used by the Automobile Blue Book. At the present time there is no complete road map west of Ogden, and tourists crossing the country either have to carry a guide or else trust to information that they can pick up along the road.

All of the cars will be fully equipped for all kinds of conditions, the trip being made solely for pleasure and for the purpose of seeing the fight in Mexico. The party expect to make the trip as far as Reno on the following schedule: First day, Salt Lake to Montello; second day, Montello to Eureka; third day, Eureka to Fallon; the fourth day Reno should be reached about noon. The route through California has not been decided as yet, but the party will probably drive to Quincy, which is Mayor Bransford's old home.

PROTEST IS NOT HEEDED

dent, the government of the United States took only the customary step of prohibiting bombardment or fighting by either faction within the unfortified and ungarrisoned commercial city of Bluefields, thus protecting the preponderating American and other foreign interests, just as the British commander had done at Greytown, where there are large British interests.

Sharp Rejoinder.

"The government of the United States has acknowledged the right of each faction to permit vessels illegally and clandestinely fitted out in American waters to interfere with American commerce."

"The government of the United States simply insists that each faction shall collect duties under its de facto control, and it refuses to permit the collection of double duties."

"If any violation of neutrality has occurred it was in connection with the sailing of the Venus from New Orleans as an expedition of the Madriz faction."

HENRY NEVILLE DEAD.

Passing of Noted English Actor and Dramatic Teacher.

London, June 19.—Henry Neville, the actor and dramatic teacher, died here today.

Neville was born in Manchester. He made his first London appearance at the Lyceum in 1866. He was lessee and manager of the Lyceum from 1876 to 1897, and founded a dramatic school in 1884. Among his prominent parts were Bob Brierly in "The Ties of Love," Charles Surface in "The School for Scandal," and Captain Absolute in "The Rivals." He also appeared in "The Soudan," which had a long run in America.

VATICAN THREATENED.

Madrid, June 19.—A semi-official note indicates that if the Vatican insists upon coupling up the protest against the royal decree, issued on June 11, with the negotiations to revise the concordat, that the government will break off all negotiations. The royal decree authorized the edicts of non-religious societies to display the insignia for public worship and other ceremonies.

MINEOLA CHOSEN.

New York, June 19.—The International aviation meet next fall will be held at Mineola, L. I. It was announced today that the Aero Club of America as a member of the International Aeronautic federation has signed a contract for a tract of land two miles long and about one mile wide on which a grandstand to seat 40,000 will be built.

THOUGHTLESSNESS OF THINKERS.

Professor William James, the famous Harvard psychologist, was given to an attitude of class remarkable instances of absent-mindedness.

"And let us not omit from our catalogue," he said, "the well known case of John Burdon Sanderson."

"John Burdon Sanderson sat at his desk in the university college, lost in thought. It was noon. The clock of the great but absent-minded student lay his frugal lunch, a sandwich. Next to the sandwich lay a frog, not dead, but motionless—it had been the subject of a curious experiment in the lecture hall an hour before."

"At noon the assistant left the professor meditating before the sandwich and the frog and at 1, when the assistant returned the professor was meditating still. The sandwich was untouched, but the frog—the frog had disappeared."—Washington Post.

AMERICAN FARE A CHINESE PUZZLE

Oriental Put to Test In Feeding Westerners.

CROWDS WATCH DINERS

ELBOW EACH OTHER IN EFFORT TO GET GOOD VIEW.

Chicago, June 19.—While the Chinese share with the French the honor of being the world's most expert cooks, an occasional palate fails to appreciate Oriental gastronomic triumphs and a traveler into the interior does well to take his own provisions.

According to the experiences of Rohan T. Chamberlin, member of the recent University of Chicago Oriental expedition, who tells some of his experiences in the current number of the University of Chicago Magazine.

The Chinese are as much puzzled over the mysterious western fare as the Occidental is over bird's nest pudding or even more bizarre concoctions dear to the Chinese palate, Dr. Chamberlin says, and gather around as curiously as a circus crowd when the keepers are feeding the lions.

Watching the Menagerie Feed.

"At breakfast or dinner," writes Dr. Chamberlin, "this curiosity makes little difference, for these meals are eaten within the semi-private recesses of the inn, but the luncheon while on the march is taken in the public court of some wayside inn or some teahouse. There is nothing to keep back the swarm of inquisitive spectators except the ineffectual efforts of the servants and a pair of soldiers whom the local magistrate sends along to serve as an escort. A crowd of a hundred peering villagers press in as close to the lunch table as they dare and elbow each other for choice positions in the front row, where they may watch the foreign menagerie eat."

"Not a motion by one of the diners on exhibition but what is observed by a score of eyes. If the encircling wall of vastly amused spectators draw rather too close under pressure from the less favored ones behind, or becomes too noisy the soldiers make a show of forcing the assemblage back, just as policemen clear necessary space for the players on a crowded baseball field at home."

"But these crowds are so thoroughly good natured that they are more amusing than offensive. It is a free circus for them and, like a group of boys around a monkey cage, they enjoy nothing more than a joke turned on one of their own number."

The diverting sight of prominent and otherwise dignified citizens being carted around the streets of interior Chinese cities in wheelbarrows is also described by the writer.

"In the heart of west China," he writes, "on the plains of Chengtu, capital of the splendid province of Szechuan, the Chinese wheelbarrow is the local specialty for passenger and freight alike. The parallel grooves in the middle of its principal streets which at once catch the traveler's eye are not car tracks, but the furrows which the wheelbarrows have slowly worn in the stone pavements."

"Riding into this region ourselves in the somewhat ease of swaying sedan chairs, which had carried us over nearly 400 miles of paved path from central China, we were not a little surprised to see leading citizens and bespectacled scholars, otherwise dignified, pushed along dusty country roads in squeaky wheelbarrows. The squeak seems to be an indispensable asset. Big Chinese parasols easily intercepted the headache compelling sunbeams, but nothing subdued the squeak or warded off the clouds of dust which whittened the wheelbarrow passenger from skull cap to shoes."

MOTOR CAR COMPANY PLANS HOUSEWARMING

Public Reception Will Be Held Upon Occupancy of New State Street Headquarters.

The Utah Motor Car company is about ready to move into its new quarters in the Moyle garage building in State street, and plans to celebrate the event as soon as it gets comfortably settled by a big public reception at the new quarters, about July 1. General Manager L. J. Gilmer is now busy on the details.

The Motor Car company's new quarters are planned to be the best of their kind in the west. The decorations, it is declared by competent experts, will be without question the best of their kind in any automobile salesrooms west of Chicago. An eastern expert has been engaged on the work for some time, and while his task is not yet completed, enough has been done to show that the decorations are both new to Salt Lake and remarkably handsome.

For the public reception planned, the Utah Motor Car company will have on hand a large line of the cars the company is handling. These are already on their way to Salt Lake from the various factories. They include 1911 models of the Packard, American, Buick, Detroit Electric and Oakland cars.

In its new home the Motor Car company will occupy the front part of the ground floor of the Moyle building. To the rear will be a large garage, independent of the Motor Car company, while the floors above will be occupied as a hotel or a rooming house.

ACTIVITY INDICATED BY BIG TRANSACTION

Many New Homes Are Being Erected on Tract In Southeast Part of City.

The recent sale by the Ashton-Jenkins company of the Joseph Powell property, between Eighth East and Ninth East streets, just south of Princeton avenue, is taken as a significant indication of the activity in real estate in the southeastern portion of the city. This property was purchased by Ashton-Jenkins company on April 1. It consisted of nearly three acres of ground. This was cut up into ten building sites, the east of which was disposed of Thursday.

Most of the purchasers of the lots are now building new homes on the premises. Among those who have already improved their purchases are Dr. Otto Monson, Philip A. Boyer, James H. Newton, John Gundry and Peter Johnson.

Ashton-Jenkins sold during the past week to William H. Korn for $16,500 a tract seven and one-half by twenty rods, on the west side of Fifth West street, between First and Second South streets. This property is immediately south of the Rio Grande lumber company's holdings and has Denver & Rio Grande trackage across its entire frontage. Korn, it is understood, is preparing to erect a $16,000 building for warehouse and storage purposes on the property.

The same real estate concern is placing on the market five acres of ground on Ninth East street, known as lot 15, block 1, Five-acre plat A, Big Field survey. This tract of land was for years known as the Hardy tract, and was owned by the trustee-in-trust of the Mormon church. The firm has cut a street through the property laid cement sidewalks and water-mains, and maple trees have been planted along both sides of the street. The asphaltum is now being laid in front of the lots by P. J. Moran, and Ashton-Jenkins are readily disposing of the sites.

ANTI-CLERICAL RIOTS.

Valencia, Spain, June 19.—Anti-clerical riots today broke out in the Catholic club and demolished the furniture. Demonstrations also occurred in other quarters. Since last Sunday, when a commission of Republicans was attacked by groups of Catholics while leaving an anti-clerical meeting and were fired upon from the Carlist club, there have been many clashes.

ADDITIONAL PRIZES.

New York, June 19.—Elaborating on its recent offer of $50,000 for an airplane, the New York World announced today an additional prize of $5,000 for a demonstration of the same two cities to demonstrate which is the swiftest airplane, motorcycle, or automobile. The offer is made providing an understanding can be made between the entrants.
